CONFERENCE OVERVIEW:

High Risk Emergency Medicine (HREM) Hawaii is designed to address the topics that, due to the risk of misdiagnosis or misadventure, produce the greatest anxiety and concern in the daily practice of emergency medicine for pediatric, adult, and older adult patient populations. This CME-accredited conference is offered by the Department of Emergency Medicine at the University of California, San Francisco, which is nationally renowned for emergency medical and trauma care.

TARGET AUDIENCE:

This course will meet the needs of the practitioner who encounters high risk conditions in their daily medical practice in settings such as urgent cares, emergency departments, or other high risk areas.

This includes:

- Emergency Medicine
- Internal and Hospital Medicine
- Family Medicine
- Pediatrics
- Geriatrics
- Critical Care

CONFERENCE OBJECTIVES:

Improve care based on knowledge of current guidelines, common patterns and causes of missed or mistreated illness or injury, and approaches to reduce the risk of medico-legal events.

Areas covered will include improvements in care of patients with Traumatic, Pediatric, Geriatric, Medication Use, Infectious, Neurologic, Cardiovascular, Toxicologic, Critical Care, Gynecologic, and Obstetric complaints

ACCREDITATION:

In support of improving patient care, the University of California, San Francisco is jointly accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE), and the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC), to provide continuing education for the healthcare team.

JOINTLY ACCREDITED PROVIDER™
INTERPROFESSIONAL CONTINUING EDUCATION

UCSF designates this live activity for a maximum of 36.00 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Application for CME credit has been filed with ACEP and AAFP. Determination of credit is pending.
